

Furniture Mover – Central London

About us

Wallacespace provides brighter thinking spaces for offsite meetings, training, workshops and events. We are looking for a dynamic, highly motivated and energetic furniture movers to re-set our building to our clients' request.

Delighting our clients with our can-do attitude and proactive service is what we do in our spaces and everyone who works with us shares this objective; our whole being is client centric.

About the role

- You will move furniture to reset each space for the next day, as per our client's request to a specific layout within each room. This involves heavy lifting, therefore you would ensure that due caution and care is taken so those around you are safe and furniture does not get damaged.
- You will ensure the tables and furniture within these spaces are clean and that each space had the necessary stationary and materials required.
- Attention to detail is key. Having an eye for things that have been missed and taking care to correct them is an essential part of the job.
- We love people who never use the words "it's not my job". If this is you, come and work for one of the leading brands in venues and conferencing.
- The position starts at 4pm for around 3- 4 hours.

About you

- Attention to detail is paramount
- You are comfortable and confident with lifting heavy objects
- You won't mind getting hands dirty and stuck in
- Strong customer focus for a client centric environment
- Ability to work effectively in a team
- Flexible
- Ability to use own initiative
- Self-motivated
- Reliable & responsible
