

Reconnect + collaborate virtually with wallacespace

While circumstance caused us to become a virtual organisation between March + July, we didn't sit around with our feet up.

Our business is still meeting spaces. Exceptional environments for collaborating, communicating, interacting and innovating. This will never change. However, since the pandemic, we have reinvented our video + virtual solutions to offer an exciting range of solutions designed to help you reconnect + collaborate in a world in which there are now more barriers to meeting face to face.

We hope you will find that our 'new' is anything but normal.

This has meant investing in our in-house capabilities to deliver high-spec video conferencing, enabling you to confidently + reliably meet with those who cannot join you in person.

We are also working with partners for larger, more complex or live streamed hybrid meetings and virtual conferences, enabling you to deliver professional virtual content globally and widening the range of services we can offer.

Our knowledgeable tech people will advise and support you as you plan your event. On the day, we'll be on hand to help you with troubleshooting, advice and support.

In-house and included in our standard pricing we can now facilitate:

Virtual speakers + presentations to those in the meeting room + team members unable to join you in person

Virtual discussions and presentations with your clients during your meeting

Virtual meetings with other team members, your CEO, your board + small teams in offices globally

On-line workshops in our outstanding environments

Our teams have in depth knowledge of the capabilities of Zoom, Teams and other platforms and can help + support you with calls and presentations

We have 1gb/s super-fast fibre broadband for excellent call stability and quality.

Working with our partners, we can help you deliver:

Hybrid workshops and virtual global conferences

Live streaming presentations to whomever you choose globally

Virtual panel discussions + seminars which can be live streamed + recorded for future use. We can also manage your content for a professional result.

Online video pitches to global markets

One to one high end presenter videos

Hybrid and virtual global conferences

Video classrooms and teacher portals

High spec professional video calls for global board meetings

And lots more!

We will work with you to find the best solution for your event, rather than asking you to choose a pre-boxed package. We're always delighted to arrange face to face meetings or video calls with our on-site tech experts, so that you can ask questions and we can advise on the best solutions.
